

VATICAN'S COLLUSION WITH CENTRAL POWERS

Non-Catholic Scribes in United Kingdom Present Evidence of Papal Alliance With Germany

European opinion of the vatican's attitude in the war is reflected in journal after journal coming into this office. A Protestant organ called The Covenanter, and published by that clear visioned divine, W. Dick, M. A., of Belfast, Ireland, gives an accurate picture of how the non-Catholics of the United Kingdom view the situation in which the vatican has allowed itself to be dragged or into which it has rushed "head-on." We quote an article from the June issue of that publication:

Evidence accumulates that behind the actual combat sinister influences have been at work from the beginning on the side of our enemies. Now, when we have reached what may well be the determining crisis of the war they are unmasking, and we are beginning to see whence they come. Current events in Ireland are showing very plainly what the utmost degree of unanimity is vital to our success—and indeed to our continuance—and when every resource of available man-power is essential to keep the Hun at bay, the Roman bishops come forward to set themselves at the head of an organized resistance which threatens us with grave results, and may quite conceivably affect the issue of our struggle with Germany to an extent beyond control. It is notorious that for generations they have sowed distrust and suspicion of England in the minds of the ignorant peasants—whom they have deliberately kept ignorant as part of their policy. Now they have come boldly into the open, and are proclaiming resistance from every pulpit and altar. Bearing in mind Rome's right to her boast, SEMPER EADEM, as evidenced in her history, we are justified in asking what benefit she expects to reap for herself from her present enterprise. For she is never disinterested, and in regard to political affairs, never to be trusted. Nor, clever as her rulers, can she long hide the cloven foot.

The activities of the vatican prior to the outbreak of war, and subsequently during its course, have all been inspired with one determination. Rome has never given up her purpose of regaining the temporal power lost in 1870. By her elaborate system of espionage and discipline she has established herself in every land with this sole object in view. To this end she has stopped short of no outrage upon the moralities of the religion she professes. She has organized and exploited the trust devotion of her sincere members—those who have no interest in her political schemes—and has bartered her sacrament with them in return for their surrender of vital liberties. Her crowning infamy is her share in promoting this war, and her conduct throughout its progress. By setting the nations of Europe—and ultimately of the world—against each other, in a conflict which must inevitably leave them all exhausted, she thought she saw her great opportunity. The only possible Peace-maker, as she believed herself to be, her own restoration to sovereignty, has been the impulse of a more shameful chapter than any in her shameful history. Now that the hearing of the defiant activities of her Irish agents is plain for all to see, it behooves us as a nation to face the situation with courage, and to act with something of the resolve our forefathers showed at the Reformation. We yield to none in our passion for religious liberty. Where, however, that liberty is betrayed,

LOST MANHOOD

SEXTONIQUE will quickly and permanently restore LOST MANHOOD, relieve weakness from excess of sexual activity, loss of vitality, etc. ALL LOSSES QUICKLY STOPPED, and full strength restored GUARANTEED TO PRODUCE RESULTS OR NO CHARGE. Interesting book sent free in plain wrapper. Correspondence confidential. CUMBERLAND MEDICAL, 100 N. 3rd St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

DR. BERRY BLOCK, NASHVILLE, TENN.

THERE IS NO HIDDEN PAST SO LONG AS BOOKS SHALL LIVE

You owe it to yourself and to your fellow man to be posted on the history, past and current which has escaped the censor or the papal index and the fine deleting fingers of the Jesuits. Such a list of books is offered you here, brim-full of facts you need to know if you are to be an enlightened worker in the cause of the new reformation. Not a book in this list would be in circulation today if Rome could prevent it. Why? Look over the titles and descriptions. All of the following are cloth-bound books.

AMERICA OR ROME—By John L. Brandt. Treats both political and religious phases of Romanism in a vivid manner. 225 pages, price $1.50.
ALMOST A NUN—By Julia McNair Wright. Think of conditions suggested by the title, and you will have description of book. 298 pages, price 75 cents.
THE ANGEL OF DEATH—By Guy Fitch Phelps. This book is to prohibition what the Bible is to anti-Catholicism. 874 pages, price $1.50.
A WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING—By Chas. M. Lee. Shows in a vivid manner that Rome is an enemy to Protestantism. 122 pages, 85 cents.
THE BLACK PROPHECY—By Guy Fitch Phelps. That love romance that shows the tragic effects of Romanism upon humanity. 240 pages, price $1.25.
CENTER SHOTS AT ROME—By Geo. P. Riedinger. Containing 7 lectures delivered by the author against Romanism. 229 pages, price $1.25.
CONSTITUTION OF POPE—By Gilbert O. Converse. A concise statement of facts and charges against Rome, and a discussion of papal sovereignty. 46 pages, price 40 cents.
CHRISTIANITY'S GREATEST PERIL—By Augustus Conrad Ekholm. Warns American method to defend Protestantism. 312 pages, price $1.00.
D'AUBIGNÉ'S MARTYRS OF THE REFORMATION—By D'Aubigné. A complete list of martyrs who were killed, etc. 512 pages, price $1.25.
DEBATE ON THE ROMAN CATHOLIC RELIGION—Between Alexander Campbell and John Purcell. A full report of this debate. 502 pages, $1.00.
FIFTY YEARS IN THE CHURCH OF ROME

and becomes a cloak for stirring up sedition and rebellion, we affirm that it is time to deal with those concerned as traitors. Let us state the fact without qualification, for it needs none—Rome is Great Britain's enemy.

It is obviously impossible within these limits to examine anything like all the evidence to hand. If, however, there are those who think the statement that Rome desired war amongst the nations for her own ends is at all exaggerated let them recall Cardinal Manning's words in 1874:

"There is only one solution of the difficulty (i. e., of the Temporal Power), a solution, I fear, impending, and that is the terrible scourge of Continental war, a war which will exceed the horrors of any wars of the First Empire. And it is my firm conviction that, in spite of all obstacles, the Vicar of JESUS CHRIST will be put again in his rightful place. But that day will not until his adversaries will have crushed each other with mutual destruction."

Those who have spoken for the pope have never hesitated to point to Great Britain as the great obstacle to the realization of their aims. The study of Protestantism of our land, handed down from Reformation times, and expressed in our legal and social systems, presented, however, too strong a defense against papal claims. Hence by intrigue they have been only too successful. They have Romanized the National Church to an almost incredible degree, they have secured a large measure of press control, and they have established themselves in high places of power. All of which has been, from their point of view, a necessary preparation of the ground for their grand coup.

The rapprochement between the Kaiser and the pope has long been notorious. Their acquisitive aims were mutual. The one sought world dominion, the other temporal power, and each saw in the other an influential ally. Together they worked to bring about the actual circumstances which precipitated war in 1914—the story of the Serbian Concordat which provided for the union of the State of Serbia with the Church of Rome, and led to the assassination of an Austrian prince, has been often told. And together they have labored to sow disaffection between the Entente Powers, and to bring about their ultimate defeat—which, thank God, they have been unable to accomplish. The silence of the vatican over the rape of Belgium, the sinking of the Lusitania, the butchery of civilian populations, and all the other atrocities with which Germany has forever befouled herself, has been eloquent. The treachery which led to the Italian collapse, and subsequently to the exposure of the pope's private chamberlain, his sentence to penal servitude for life as the organizer of disloyalty and director of sabotage in the Italian army and navy, and his escape to Germany (!), tells the same story. The impudent peace note addressed last year to the belligerents by the pope, with its assumption of equal guilt and responsibility, the trouble solely with the hierarchy in regard to recruiting for the Imperial Army in Australia and Eastern Canada; and now the formidable threatening in Ireland—all these are evidence as to the direction of Rome's active sympathy. None but those of our fellow-countrymen who simply won't see, can fail to read the plain meaning of these facts. This is not only Germany's war, it is Rome's war also.

Let us be under no illusions in regard to Rome's ultimate objective. One of the influential organs of the Catholic party in Germany, the Kölnische Volkszeitung, recently announced:

"Effective measures must be taken to give the pope and his successors more independence than is possible while the vatican continues to be surrounded by Italian territory. It is probable that Germany will be privileged to bring about a satisfactory solution of the question of an independent Papal State, which the war has once more brought within the scope of practical politics."

Little more than a year ago, in the report of a papal interview with the representative of a neutral nation The Times said:

"Questioned regarding the temporal dominion of the pope, his holiness is alleged to have replied that last year peace could only be obtained if the position of the Holy See were satisfactorily settled."

If any ask, Why Rome should be pro-German in this world struggle, here is answer enough. None but a vicious Germany would ever give her what she wanted in Italy. That this is the Jesuit bargain with the Kaiser, is evident beyond dispute. That its entire system is secretly working to this end, need not be questioned. That the interests of Great Britain are thereby threatened, is plain to all. For when Rome puts her hand to any task she regards neither the rights of God nor man, and proudly justifies her actions on the ground of her super-nationality. Are we content to let her wage her unclean warfare in our very land?

In saying these things, we have no intention of impugning the loyalty of thousands of our fellow-subjects who profess the Roman Catholic religion. They are neither responsible for nor sympathetic with the aims of the vatican, which are so clearly revealed by its activities. We say, however, that the time has come for Christian England to make its voice felt in the councils of the world in regard to Rome's political determinations. If the vatican is our enemy—and of this we have no doubt—we should at once withdraw the British envoy—who should never indeed have been sent there. And we should deal with these offending bishops in Ireland as with any other treasonable agitators—under the Defense of the Realm Act. Let them be tried by courts martial, and let the sentences imposed upon the guilty be carried out. Rome would then know that we do not mean to become the stepping-stones of her ambition. In a time of crisis like this, no consideration of any man's office—especially when he has himself already degraded it—should stand in the way of that victory on which peace can alone be based. Where there are foes they must be dealt with as foes, or we must be prepared ourselves to reap the harvest of their treachery.

Very Interesting

"But most interesting is this fact. This wonderful remedy (guanine) for fever, one of the few absolute specifics that man possesses, the world owes to Catholic priests. And because Catholics discovered it, bigoted Protestants in Great Britain refused to give it a trial, saying that it must be cursed. That we call VERY interesting."—Today, column, page 1, Washington (D. C.) Times, Sunday, Aug. 12, 1917.

Remarkable have been the transformations wrought in human bodies by modern surgery. Faces shattered by shells have been restored to almost former perfection; a nose has been replaced, ears destroyed, etc.

And yet broad-minded Roman Catholics in past times, ecclesiastics entirely free from bigotry (sic), have protested against surgery, because it was a destruction of God's handiwork. The body was made in the image of God, and to apply the knife of the surgeon would be marring the image of the divine.

And something else VERY INTERESTING. These same Roman Catholics, who objected to surgery for the above reason, could take the same human body and place it on the rack, and tear it limb from limb; could place it in the embrace of the iron virgin and have it pierced by iron spikes, could bind it to a stake and burn it, could pour hot metal on it, and boiling oil—in all this of course the image of God was not marred. For were not these bodies the bodies of heretics; and heretics, you know, can lay no claim to bearing in their bodies the divine image.

HOW VERY INTERESTING!

No wonder Arthur Brisbane wants "Catholic democracy" instead of the real thing. Look what the latter is doing to him now.

Rome longs for the day that will see the American cardinals dictating this government's policy through a henchman in the White House.

PAPAL PROFITEERING COMING TO NAUGHT

The Littleness of Rome in World's Gravest Crisis Becoming Apparent to Close Observers

In nothing does the Roman Catholic hierarchy and press show its characteristic and contemptible littleness more than in the blatant and ceaseless effort to magnify Roman Catholics in connection with the war. Virtually every issue of every paper which they publish—and accounts of their recent press meeting in Chicago show that they claim more than two hundred—devotes much space on every page to this disgusting narrowness.

No truly Christian or patriotic citizen or paper is capable of trying to extract undeserved credit and preferment for a particular sect or party out of this appalling catastrophe. No Methodist paper fills its columns with matter laudatory of Methodists. No Baptist paper is so contemptible as to extol the valor of Baptists only. The same spirit pervades the press of every Christian denomination except the Roman sect.

While all Protestant papers rejoice in the valor and success of the American army and those of our co-belligerents, the papal press busies itself with alleging that this military hero or that is a Roman Catholic, that the Roman Catholic chaplains are faithful to their duties, that the Knights of Columbus are surpassing expectations, that the pope has prayed for peace or blessed the papal chaplains or Knights of Columbus, that throngs attended Roman Catholic mass in some old cathedral, or that long lists of Roman Catholic churches with alien and medieval names have unfurled service flags.

Nothing daunted when these narrow and sectarian claims are shown to be mainly false, the alien sect and its mouthpieces make other and still other wild sectarian claims faster than it is possible for patriots to investigate them and point out their falsity. Since their own people are not permitted to read the Protestant and patriotic press, those people never learn that the narrow and selfish and bigoted and absurd statements of the Roman press are totally false.

No patriot was concerned, for instance, whether Joffre or Foch or Haig or Pershing was Protestant or Roman Catholic, Jew or Gentile. It was enough to know that they were able soldiers and patriots. But the Roman press has been incessantly proclaiming to the world that each of them is a Roman Catholic. What if they had been? It would seem remarkable if no soldiers of ability could be found among the millions of Roman Catholics in France and Italy, not to mention England and America.

But in due time it was ascertained that Joffre and Pershing are Presbyterians and that Haig is an Episcopalian. Now comes the press report that Foch urges Bibles as the greatest possible gift to the soldiers, while the popes have uniformly condemned the very Bible societies that Foch commends and have forbidden the giving of the "Catholic Bible" even to any but priests. This demonstrates that he also is a Protestant—in fact not in name. But what if he were not? Others are content to know that he is a great soldier and is doing his duty. Only Roman Catholics would use his great genius and valor to magnify their sect.

A larger number of Protestant chaplains are doing their duty than of Roman Catholics because more of them are in the service. But no Protestant paper is little and contemptible enough to parade that fact forever before the public to magnify any sect. The non-sectarian Y. M. C. A. is admitted to have raised more money for the soldiers than the strictly sectarian Knights of Columbus because the people and most of the soldiers prefer broad-minded and non-sectarian work of that kind to narrow and sectarian work. But no Protestant paper is busy advertising that fact.

Such is the contrast between Romanism and Christianity, between patriotism and bigoted papal sectarianism. The Roman Catholics refused to participate in the non-sectarian work of the Y. M. C. A. or the Salvation Army. They will do no work anywhere that is not narrowly sectarian and exclusively Roman Catholic. That is why they are perpetually accusing somebody or the general public or the government of "religious prejudice." That is why they cannot live in peace in any community. That is why Romanism is so deeply hated in Italy and Mexico and other countries that it has dominated for centuries.

If Roman Catholic clergy and politicians were patriots instead of puny egotists and fanatics, if they had any real love for democracy or for the American nation, they would magnify the work of our army and all the great humane instrumentalities that are doing so much for the cause of human liberty instead of advertising and exaggerating the imaginary achievements of none but Roman Catholics. Their game has been overplayed. The people understand.

Upton Sinclair's

UPTON SINCLAIR'S for October publishes a correspondence with the President and the Secretary of War, dealing with the treatment of political prisoners. Its editor has been advocating that prisoners now in jail for pacifist activities should be transferred to government work farms where they can construct their own dwellings and raise their own food. He points out that these people are at present requiring the labor of able-bodied men both to produce food for them and to keep guard over them, whereas they might be placed upon parole and allowed to do useful work under government supervision. The President has expressed interest in

PAPAL PROFITEERING COMING TO NAUGHT

The Littleness of Rome in World's Gravest Crisis Becoming Apparent to Close Observers

In nothing does the Roman Catholic hierarchy and press show its characteristic and contemptible littleness more than in the blatant and ceaseless effort to magnify Roman Catholics in connection with the war. Virtually every issue of every paper which they publish—and accounts of their recent press meeting in Chicago show that they claim more than two hundred—devotes much space on every page to this disgusting narrowness.

No truly Christian or patriotic citizen or paper is capable of trying to extract undeserved credit and preferment for a particular sect or party out of this appalling catastrophe. No Methodist paper fills its columns with matter laudatory of Methodists. No Baptist paper is so contemptible as to extol the valor of Baptists only. The same spirit pervades the press of every Christian denomination except the Roman sect.

While all Protestant papers rejoice in the valor and success of the American army and those of our co-belligerents, the papal press busies itself with alleging that this military hero or that is a Roman Catholic, that the Roman Catholic chaplains are faithful to their duties, that the Knights of Columbus are surpassing expectations, that the pope has prayed for peace or blessed the papal chaplains or Knights of Columbus, that throngs attended Roman Catholic mass in some old cathedral, or that long lists of Roman Catholic churches with alien and medieval names have unfurled service flags.

Nothing daunted when these narrow and sectarian claims are shown to be mainly false, the alien sect and its mouthpieces make other and still other wild sectarian claims faster than it is possible for patriots to investigate them and point out their falsity. Since their own people are not permitted to read the Protestant and patriotic press, those people never learn that the narrow and selfish and bigoted and absurd statements of the Roman press are totally false.

No patriot was concerned, for instance, whether Joffre or Foch or Haig or Pershing was Protestant or Roman Catholic, Jew or Gentile. It was enough to know that they were able soldiers and patriots. But the Roman press has been incessantly proclaiming to the world that each of them is a Roman Catholic. What if they had been? It would seem remarkable if no soldiers of ability could be found among the millions of Roman Catholics in France and Italy, not to mention England and America.

But in due time it was ascertained that Joffre and Pershing are Presbyterians and that Haig is an Episcopalian. Now comes the press report that Foch urges Bibles as the greatest possible gift to the soldiers, while the popes have uniformly condemned the very Bible societies that Foch commends and have forbidden the giving of the "Catholic Bible" even to any but priests. This demonstrates that he also is a Protestant—in fact not in name. But what if he were not? Others are content to know that he is a great soldier and is doing his duty. Only Roman Catholics would use his great genius and valor to magnify their sect.

A larger number of Protestant chaplains are doing their duty than of Roman Catholics because more of them are in the service. But no Protestant paper is little and contemptible enough to parade that fact forever before the public to magnify any sect. The non-sectarian Y. M. C. A. is admitted to have raised more money for the soldiers than the strictly sectarian Knights of Columbus because the people and most of the soldiers prefer broad-minded and non-sectarian work of that kind to narrow and sectarian work. But no Protestant paper is busy advertising that fact.

Such is the contrast between Romanism and Christianity, between patriotism and bigoted papal sectarianism. The Roman Catholics refused to participate in the non-sectarian work of the Y. M. C. A. or the Salvation Army. They will do no work anywhere that is not narrowly sectarian and exclusively Roman Catholic. That is why they are perpetually accusing somebody or the general public or the government of "religious prejudice." That is why they cannot live in peace in any community. That is why Romanism is so deeply hated in Italy and Mexico and other countries that it has dominated for centuries.

If Roman Catholic clergy and politicians were patriots instead of puny egotists and fanatics, if they had any real love for democracy or for the American nation, they would magnify the work of our army and all the great humane instrumentalities that are doing so much for the cause of human liberty instead of advertising and exaggerating the imaginary achievements of none but Roman Catholics. Their game has been overplayed. The people understand.

Upton Sinclair's

UPTON SINCLAIR'S for October publishes a correspondence with the President and the Secretary of War, dealing with the treatment of political prisoners. Its editor has been advocating that prisoners now in jail for pacifist activities should be transferred to government work farms where they can construct their own dwellings and raise their own food. He points out that these people are at present requiring the labor of able-bodied men both to produce food for them and to keep guard over them, whereas they might be placed upon parole and allowed to do useful work under government supervision. The President has expressed interest in

Who Is a Bigot?

"I am infallible and you are a bigot." So says popery to the fifteen hundred millions of other mortals. Please do not laugh. Popery is not joking. It is in dead earnest.

But what shall we say of one who claims infallibility and then talks about bigotry? Popery is a tissue of absurdities, but its gethuses for grotesque seems to have culminated in this unparalleled assumption.

No word in the vocabulary is flippant from papal tongue and pen more frequently or with more venom than the word bigot. In fact, it seems to those who refer seriously to her long record of immorality, plunder and oppression.

Mention the fact that the Roman hierarchy once owned half the land in Europe and more than half the money, and two hundred papal newspapers in this country will devote at least a hundred editorial columns to calling you a bigot.

Invite public attention to the condition of Mexico after four hundred years of robbery and degradation by Roman priests, and twenty thousand Irish and German priests will hiss through their teeth the same threadbare epithet.

Show by the federal statutes that Congress hands over to the Roman Catholic Indian schools in the Sioux reservation $200,000 every year from the treasury of the United States, and you will earn the title of bigot.

Point to state legislatures and city ordinances appropriating to the sectarian institutions of Rome many millions of dollars annually out of funds that belong to all the people, and the same retort will be forthcoming from more than a hundred Roman bishops.

If you refer to the treason of the Pope's grand chamberlain you are a bigot. Allude to the treason of Bolo Pasha with a letter of recommendation from the Pope in his pocket, and you are a bigot.

Sneak of the treason in papal Ireland, the treason in papal Quebec, the alleged treason of Jeremiah A. O'Leary, head of the Roman Catholic Truth Society, or the treason of Madame de Victoria, and you immediately become a bigot.

Quote from the great encyclicals of Pope Leo XIII his violent denunciations of government by the people, and you become an arch-bigot.

Read from the great standard historians that popes have not infrequently filled Rome with male and female harlots, reared large families of illegitimate children and made some of them cardinals, and have bought their way to the papal throne with corruption money, and you are the prince of bigots.

Remind the public that selfish intrigues between the popes and the Kaisers of Austria Hungary have caused most of the wars in the past four hundred years, and the word bigot is scarcely adequate to your case.

But suggest that papal nunneries where women are held in prison and in slavery should be inspected by the government, and you graduate out of the class of bigots and become a devil. That is what the diocesan organ of Cardinal Gibbons said editorially of Governor Catts for making such a recommendation to the state legislature of Florida.

Of course, no other bigotry could possibly approach that of an institution that arrogates infallibility to mortal man. The annals of mankind disclose no bigotry comparable to that of popery.

Rome in Dutch Politics

In every land that has been penetrated by the roots of the Vatican cancer, the papal hierarchy with its army of corrupt politicians, liquor joints and low dives is busy with selfish policies. In all countries containing enough Roman Catholics to control elections and run the government, the political parties are the clerical and anti-clerical forces.

Just now Rome is striving to seize the reins of government in Holland. That country has been classed as Protestant since assassinated by the Roman power murdered the greatest champion of Dutch liberties, William the Silent, in 1584. In August 10, The Baltimore Catholic Review, diocesan organ of Cardinal Gibbons, gave on its front page the following statement:

"According to Marquis de Fontenay, who writes for the daily press a column of historical gossip, the new prime minister of Holland, who has been described merely as 'Mr. Noulens and as leader of the Catholic party in the Netherlands, is in reality a prelate in his church, a dignitary of the household and court of Benedict XV, and as such endowed with the title of monsignor and with semi-episcopal functions."

The foregoing typical Roman Catholic gush merits attention from several angles. By what semblance of propriety is a Dutch politician "en-

ECZEMA

Also called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk Crust, Water Poison, Weeping Skin, etc.

For fifteen years I have been treating one disease alone, ECZEMA. I have handled over one million cases. I do not pretend to know it all, but I am convinced the disease is due to an excess of acid in the blood, and closely related to rheumatism and cancer. This acid must be removed.

ECZEMA is called by some people Itch, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk Crust, Weeping Skin, etc. I am fully convinced ECZEMA is a curable disease, and when I say it can be cured, I mean just what I say—CURED, and not merely put up for a while to return worse than before. It makes no difference what other doctors have told you, or what all you have tried, all I ask is just a chance to prove to you that this vast experience has taught me a great deal that would be of help to you. If you will write me today I will send you a free trial of my mild, soothing, guaranteed treatment that will do more to convince you than I or anyone else could in a month's preaching. It's all up to you. If you suffer any more with eczema and refuse to merely write to me for free trial just blame yourself. No matter where you live, I will treat you by mail. Merely dropping me a postal today is likely to give you more real comfort in a week than you ever expected to enjoy again. Do it right now, your very life may be at stake.

J. E. CANNADAY, M. D., 1201 Court Bk., Sedalia, Mo.

References: Third National Bank, Sedalia, or ask your banker to find out about me. Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

DR. CANNADAY Eczema Specialist For 15 Years.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will be a kind act by you.

Send this notice to some poor sufferer from eczema. It will